Lobby Day is our chance to take a stand for the future of Texas and for our jobs. It is a critical part of our ongoing fight for economic and social justice for state workers and citizens. We will meet at the Capitol lawn, march, rally, and then meet with our legislators and present them with our program.

On April 10th, state workers and union members from across Texas are coming to Austin for a march and rally to defend public workers and public services. TSEU is calling for a massive show of strength to tell the legislature that we will fight to restore funding for public services, protect state employee benefits, and win a $3600 across-the-board raise. Everything is at stake; our jobs, our pensions our health care, our pay, and the services we provide. We need you to be there.
